DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 and 8 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record does not disclose or teach an oscillating reluctance motor having a rotary bar connected to the rotational shaft of the motor with a coil spring also attached to the rotary bar for controlling the rotation of the rotor as recited in claim 1.

Burke, Jr. (of record) discloses an oscillating reluctance motor used for scanning and mentions spring constants for the system in column 3 lines 41-65. Ishikawa 6,066,829 A teaches using a spring to control the swing of a scanning mirror to a specified angle in column 6 line 66 to column 7 line 8. Brum et al. (of record) discloses a rotary bar connected to a coil spring "to achieve a maximum possible oscillation amplitude." See Brum et al. column 10 lines 22-30. The claimed elements are present in the prior art, but no reason has been found for combining those elements together to produce the claimed invention. While Brum et al. and Burke, Jr. are both oscillating motors, the structural features of razors and optical scanners are not similar. Also controlling the swing of a driven device to a specified angle is not the same thing as achieving a maximum possible oscillation amplitude.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
